Subject: Peonies for Kathy

The florist definitely not happy with the way the peonies turned out...they want to send Kathy another arrangement -something "beautiful and with no peonies" today ...they said if she is not in DC today to find out when she will be back and they will send to her then...They are wondering if she loves another certain type of flower. The florist also said it is not peonies season but they stand behind their product (FYI-I actually did have to call a few florists before I found one that had peonies in house)

I will email Kathy and find out if she is in DC...
