I just sent an email to a retired NBA player that lives here on a lake and fishes a lot. He may know of something for another option. I don't know about that price...is $700 reasonable? Hard for me to know but Ike and Pat probably have some idea. Pat is still in Orlando until Friday night.

Actually that sounds fun because we could maybe do a picnic and pack drinks/Fini and food?!?!? It also wouldn't be so hot. I was thinking 6 hours in the sun would be too much for me but in the evening it could be fun.

ok great...Kevin (the guy I have been communicating with) says he would take us from 3-9pm on the 5th...Would love to hear what Pat's person has to say...I told Kevin I would get back to him...

From pat...I think we should look at a few more. I want to see if there is a half day and would like to see if anyone I know had any other options for us. I actually have thought of someone that probably will know and just need to get her email or number form Pat.

Pat,
Would you be ok with a fishing excursion on Friday Aug 5th (day after ND camp ends and [REDACTED] and Ike come back here for that weekend)? [REDACTED] has been looking into one but the guy is not available on Saturday the 6th and is available on Friday...just wasn't sure about your work schedule.

I will send you the link to the fishing excursion.

Please let me know so we can coordinate as it effects dates we also go to Tigers game.
