I suspect that Google Drive is sharing its update connection with Gmail, so it's not updating until Mail.app finishes updating. Because your computer @ 71st is shared with guest users, we can't leave your account logged in to continually update (like we do @ the office on Lex).

It might help to

1. dramatically reduce the number of files you have in Google Drive. That should reduce the time it takes to find changes and synchronize the updated files, or
2. quit mail until Google Drive finishes updating, or
3. edit this particular file in Google Docs in the browser — that way you'll always be in the most current version no matter what.

hi James... I am having issues with google docs still when i come to 71st... example: I added something to jeffrey's itinerary at home this morning...when i pull it up on my screen here at 71st the updated version is not here...i went in and looked at <https://drive.google.com> and it is updated there. so I restarted my computer...that didnt work either... still does not show the updates after restarting...is there something else I need to do?
