Subject: Tournament this weekend

Hi everyone, so after thinking through and getting input, we are going to play in the Zero Gravity CT State Championships in New Haven and Hartford this weekend. We will be playing in the A division, and the competition will be very strong.

I have asked for, and received assurances from Zero Gravity that we will be playing in New Haven on Saturday. If we make it to Sunday, we will have to play in Hartford.

We can work together to help each other on car-pooling, etc if/as needed.

It will be an exciting weekend. Zero Gravity says they will publish the schedules tomorrow. As soon as I receive it I will get it out to you.

Best,

Fred
