Any reminders you see on the schedule starting tomorrow, please remind JE of them in the morning...Include me on all emails so I can sort of keep up. Nothing critically important over next week for the moment at least. Jeffrey is in San Francisco and Palo Alto all day today and will fly to the island tonight. Then I believe he will stay on the island all next week..perhaps coming to NY on Sat 16th but we will see...it has changed so many times I really don't know!
