I think the times for games totally stink. why so late? that is terrible. Especially Sunday after 8pm!?! Cost is nice. I am not sure [REDACTED] will enjoy playing basketball with B players. [REDACTED] is an A player and likes the challenge and team mates who can pass and keep up the pace... not sure on this at all...

I think he would enjoy the AAU WAY better, but I don't think we would like the running around. The only thing I can think is that the [REDACTED]s would totally be available to help drive some. And frankly, and you know this, [REDACTED] would enjoy the AAU team more than LAX or [REDACTED]s spring ball.

Very nice event last night and congratulations to all of the boys on a great season.

I am trying to keep basketball going for a couple more months. I know there is a 5th grade AAU team being formed and this is not designed to compete with that. This would be for boys who can't make the full commitment to AAU but want to enjoy some Spring hoops. Here is what I have in mind:

- The Spring League in Brewster Sports Center. We would play in the 5th grade league, preferably B division. The season would be from March 28 to June 12 approx.
- Since teams make up the same schedule I would try to get games in this order of priority:
 1. Friday evenings/nights after 7 pm
 2. Saturday evenings after 8 pm
 3. Monday evenings after 6 pm
 4. Sunday evenings 8 pm
- The season consists of 8 games plus playoffs. Practices would be minimal and local (i.e. Saxe outdoors) I would try to schedule a couple doubleheaders on Friday. We will stay away from scheduling during the vacation week.
- 10 players max. The cost would be $100 and we would wear our NCBA uniforms.
- Team would be coached by me and [REDACTED] unless we can find a more experienced coach to step in. The atmosphere would center around having fun and using the knowledge and skill they acquired during the past season to be creative and responsible with the basketball.

- Please let me know yes or no. I have to go to the scheduling meeting next Tuesday. My goal is to get mostly Friday night games.
