As JE would Say,. My Tummy tells me if we were going to Paris we would've left Friday night, why spend all weekend in New York and then leave Sunday night to arrive for two days of rain in French Town,.

Of course I could be totally wrong "again"

Lol

No news yet, let's keep each other posted have a great Saturday night

Jeffrey,
NYC - Paris flight time 6+05min (+86kts tailwind),
I'm actual planning on 6+15min since we'll have to fly north around Charles DeGalle and land to the West at Le Bourget.

Sunday night Paris Weather should be good for our arrival, Windy 25kt to 30kt wind, some Rain showers in forecast.

Monday and Tuesday, Rain and windy at 25kts+, Monday temp 52 degrees, Tuesday cooler, with high temp 47 degrees / Lows 39 degrees.

Wednesday clearing with high temp 51 degrees, Partly cloudy.

Thursday, light rain in forecast, confirming 7am wheels up to Paris Sunday morn ?

thank you
Larry
