Let's talk about moving that info into iCloud Notes. Apple has an update in the works that will allow individual notes to be password protected, so we could add an extra layer of security while moving the info into a program designed to handle longer text files.

YES!! totally can wait...
I have not noticed anything else 'missing' all has been great! then when I had to fill out a person form for JE yesterday and needed his height and weight...I saw that all that 'treasured' info was gone...Oh well...it is not like I need it asap...and I hate to undo all the good...so maybe I just start a new edition of this list...

Ack. I did multiple backups, so we can totes recover it, but it's tricky to recover without losing all the cleanup I did last week.

Can it wait until I can be at the house to fetch it out of the larger backup?

Boo Hoo!!! all my private, special Jeffrey info has disappeared in his contact page! I have been taking notes on JE personal stuff for years!!! (shoe size, parents names, JE height, weight, when he had a surgery and for what ...etc) that I kept in Jeffrey's contact page...it is all gone!

I am thinking no way to get it back?...
