HI [REDACTED]..I was just listening to radio and they said there is a storm that MAY come our way thursday night...right now it does not show it will hit us...that it is still off the east coast...but something to look out for...Jeffrey told me he may want to leave for the island thursday night... in the same breath however, if Noam Chomsky is around Cambridge on Friday and available, Jeffrey may stay and go to Cambridge on Friday...still though, if a storm is coming, he will want to know...have you heard anything on this?

;)
