OK great. I will send an email out to the team (Les, can you send me everyone's email address though!? I don't think I can send an email to all from the ones you have been sending...or else I would!) Brian, do we ask people to buy in bulk some of the items on the list and then do we pack in boxes and label? or how does it work? Sorry, I'm not exactly clear...
I will include this link and host after the basketball game on Jan. 16th...it is a home game and we can order pizzas or something...is that ok with league rules?
:) Lesley
