I can always change it in other day if in case I have some appointments. Can i start 11b on the following week. I have family this coming week and I have to assist them. I'll be still working but i have to take some off next week so I can take her around in the the city. I hope you don't mind. Thank you.

I know you clean [REDACTED] apt once a week when she is here (which doesn't seem to be much lately!) Would Wed. at 9am be a good day/time to try and keep for them? (FYI-Leighton fully understands there are guest apartments that need to be cleaned at random times...we will work with that)
