Hi Donald...checking in...will tomorrow work for you to come over? Also, the nightstands came in pieces also...i didn't realize...I'm sure simple to put together...the night stands are about 110 pounds each and the credenza is 240 pounds...you will need help for sure! I would recommend taking the pieces out of the boxes, carrying the pieces upstairs and assembling up there on a tarp in the hallway perhaps!

Hi Donald. I have a few things at our house I need done and wanted to see if you would have time to help me one day next week. Below is the list. Please let me know:

- Assemble a credenza I bought and carry upstairs to our Bedroom. I believe the credenza is mostly assembled it's just a few minor things that need to be done.
- carry 2 new night stands up stairs and place in our bedroom
- put some mesh over two pipes sticking out of our house. Paint the mesh to match the pipes (it is our house color- we should have the paint)
- glue a piece of wood that has cracked by our sliding glass back door.

Please let me know if you would have the time to help. Thanks [REDACTED]
