Subject: A Few Things!

Helloooooooo...cause we always talk about a million things and then I forget to discuss others...I wanted to just send an email!

-I spoke to Mike Evans about the boys attending his camp but not as a traditional 'week'...i told him it would total 5 days (or less) but would it be ok for them to attend?...he said not to sign up on the internet but instead just bring in our kids with a check for the week and don't tell anybody! He was cool with it...I mention this because 1. [REDACTED] loved the bb camp and wants to go again and thinks [REDACTED] would love also...2. because we don't have the boys set up for a camp when you return from Orlando and we return from Boston...I was thinking they could go: [REDACTED] July 8, 9, 10, 13, 15 [REDACTED] July 9,10,13, 15, 16. Or we can have them go just some of the days and have a Costigan Camp day?

-Fishing Trip July 14: I think we tell the boys at dinner this Thursday when we are out about the trip...let them get excited about it and look forward to it! We are allowed 6 pp on the boat...Not sure if you want to, but If Pat can't go, you certainly can! It is a 3 hour trip starting at 9am...As long as JE is not in town, I want to go...Ike invited his Dad which I think is great...but something to think about...

-Do you think your facial gal would take me on as a new client in your space? Or does she have a wait list of clients? Or do you know of a good person in our town for facials? I think I need to start going...

I think that is it for now! oxoxoxoxo [REDACTED]
