No problem - yes, please use my cell and apologize again for the delay. (I think he'll have a better sense of all the variants I went through on everyone - and hence the delay - once we go through the data.)

I will also ask him if he wants regular updates and free additional sequencing over time.

1pm on Thurs works for me if that's still good for him.
I should have a memory stick with the raw data sent out to him tomorrow. I'll forward the tracking info to you once I have that.

Best,

Morning JOe...would 1pm on Thursday June 11th work for you? Also, when will you send the raw data to Jeffrey's home address and how? I want to alert the house to watch for your package...

Thanks, Lesley
