Subject: just an idea...

Hi Paula,

After the sad news of you guys leaving settled in, I thought how nice it would be to gather a bunch of Henry's friends to say goodbye towards the end of the school year. You may have already thought of this and have something in mind, but I wanted you to know I am happy to organize something so you can keep your focus on the big move. I spoke to [REDACTED], who has offered to help and even had the same idea cooking.

It would be something casual, with Henry's closest friends. Let me know your thoughts. I'm totally open and won't be hurt if you decline- just wanted to offer and let you know we're thinking of you and how special your friendship is to us & the boys.

Talk soon,

-Cara
