I think that would be a great plan...ok with you Bella?

We have guests in every apartment though at the moment so will need to schedule you in maybe next week ...

and OK on the wifi... [REDACTED] was in there for awhile so I think you helped her once..I'll just wait until this person departs to figure out. thanks

Was I in 8A? They all kind of blend together.

If I was, the password will be "bemyguest" -- that's what I have all the wifi networks at 66th set to. If it wasn't, then it's the TWC default password, which is based on the hardware address of the modem itself.

I'd really like to go through all the apts there, make sure they all have the new Arris modems that TWC is handing out and configure all the wifi networks the same way.

HI James...by any chance do you know the wifi code in 8A? (i know it is on the box and the person staying there has retrieved it, but I need for my records...) If you don't know it, I can wait till this person leaves and have [REDACTED] go in and give it to me...just thought I would see if you had it...
