Confusion is how Artefacto works.
All the orders use 11J as the contact apartment and there was no way to change it!

If you look at my email I noted which furniture goes to which apartment and the files are named by the apartment number. Artefacto also noted it at the end of the item list to the left and above the total.
Hope that helps.

As far as storage, Anthony did mention that he had space but not sure if it can handle this amount all at once.

Also I was under the understanding that the remainder furniture was going to being donated since not much of it is worth trying to send it to the consignment shop.
