Please advise if the below is acceptable and I will place the order for the Precor AMT885.

Hello [REDACTED]

I confirmed everything on my end, and I am attaching the quote's breakdown.

When all is said in done, the AMT will cost $11,486.31. This includes the taxes, labor charges (delivery and installation, and removal of EFX 447), Preva activation, and the AMT itself.

The Preva setup is something we have to bill as it's own item on the invoice because we submit the account information to Precor. Basically, this activation allows Precor to directly interact with the unit, as well as allowing the user to save their exercise onto a mobile device (it can do this with the Preva App or a specific set of other exercise applications). Finally, it involves installing the internet and cable connections for the machine if there are inputs at the installation area. Mr. Epstein can elect to go without the Preva and save $150.

So, since Mr. Epstein already spent $5,551.54, the difference to purchase the AMT would be $5934.77.

Please let me know if you would like to proceed.
