I don't think you should match two rugs...too matchy...I also would say that you do not want a rug under your eating table...just a pain...it needs to be vacuumed all the time and also easy to spill all kinds of things...now that I am thinking about your chairs...they are not good...they are those iron legs right? I have felt pads on all my legs in kitchen but they are all wood. Hmmm...not sure what to tell you on that? You could do a grey sisal under there maybe...hard to scot chairs though. Ugh!!
