[REDACTED], would it be possible for you two to use [REDACTED] Seamless web account [REDACTED]. [REDACTED] delivery people wanting you to come down and fetch your food to the deli's calling me to tell me they are out of the muffin you ordered (or whatever...you know what i mean)...

It seems to me it would be better for the two of you as well because [REDACTED] receive the confirms and you will know when to expect your food as well as go back and check out any order you have placed if there are discrepancies, etc. Plus the extra time it takes for the deli or delivery person to call me then call you only holds up your food that much longer! ;)

I know [REDACTED] t have her own account, but don't you [REDACTED] Would just be nice to not get interrupted all the time and have to give out your phone numbers, and try to explain why they are not delivering to [REDACTED]
