It gets hit by more sun. The front doors are less exposed. I would sand it down and put another coat of exterior varnish on it. The stain variation is not all that noticeable.

but then why would the Juliette Door look lighter than the front door? Arent they made of the same materials and we purchased both from the same place? They should look the same?

Danny is here...we went outside and showed him where we want all the stones placed

What do you think about Carlos Castro? Am I right that the Juliette door and bench behind tub were not finished and should be included in part of original deal?

I don't think the stone will fall off. It is from china. It will be fine. The only real problem is the lawn. I want to talk to Tom Costello. I want to experiment with taking topsoil and rotilling it in and planting grass. Just oto see if it works.

Ike and I will both be home Thursday. Ike is meeting with Tom Costello our lawn guy at 3pm to discuss lawn. We will mark where we want steps to come off of back patio. We may be out with Ty till about noon but will be home for sure after that.

Will discuss semi gloss with Ike and Donald.

Carlos Castro is coming Saturday. I told him we so not want to do all the things he is suggesting. We want him to label paint and do little things. Do you think he should finish the Juliette door on his own tab? I feel like it is not finished. Same with stain on bench around tub. These are items that should have been done, no?

For sure get this guys last name at Affordable materials. Does Danny know it?

FYI- Danny told Gloryana that he thinks over time all the stone on our fireplace will be falling off sue to how the stone was produced! Scary thought.

Sent you 3 pics of different areas of our lawn. It's bad

If you want a semi gloss finish you could have Donald just do the outside. With Sikkens exterior varnish. You could confirm for sure with the garage guy. That is the way the doors came in. Its more off a mat finish.

Danny is coming early on Thursday to finish walks. I am coming up to meet him at about 11am . Please mark where you want the stones. I haven't mailed the letter yet. I need the guys last name.
