Hi [REDACTED]

Rich's old iMac is back from repair. I'll be back in that office on Thursday and would like to copy your computer onto that repaired iMac so you have a machine without a failing display.

I'll be doing an exact clone of your existing system onto the new one, so there won't be any of the problems that the previous upgrades had with updating your email. Everything should be EXACTLY as it is now, just with a brighter screen.

I just wanted to warn you before I make changes. Let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,
