Hi, good to see you too ! You bought an Apple airport extreme didn't you ? We should be ok if you add 1 or 2 of these.

George

Hi George! Nice to see you today! My IT guy from my office is asking me a question and thought I would shoot it your way to see if you could advise or help me with my answer...I let him know I have Optimum coming tomorrow and will have wifi...his response was:

"It will be a question whether the wireless modem they install will broadcast a strong enough signal to where the iMac is located.

That's difficult to predict, of course, but the key is to make sure the kitchen isn't in between the modem & where you'll be accessing the internet from."

Do you think we will have enough signal?
