

To: Bella Kleir [REDACTED]
From: [REDACTED]
Sent: Thur 6/12/2014 4:56:16 PM
Subject: Re: Allianz Travel Insurance

good deal...thanks

On Jun 12, 2014, at 12:55 PM, bellaklein <[REDACTED]> wrote:

ok, will call and purchase. I agree that she needs ins for 1 year. [REDACTED] also buys for 1 year in russia.

Thank you,
Bella

[REDACTED]

On Jun 12, 2014, at 12:32 PM [REDACTED] wrote:

Hi Bella...Amex no longer offers travel insurance...they did recommend Allianz. I have spoken to Allianz and I think they will provide the coverage [REDACTED] needs, but could you double check?
www.allianztravelinsurance.com

I think she needs a years worth of coverage and not per trip..will be way easier...Jeffrey told me the other day he is going to start using [REDACTED] way more...

I spoke to Emma at Allianz...if you want to call and investigate and purchase the insurance for [REDACTED], give them ID: [REDACTED] that way you don't have to start all over with what I have discussed. We need to make sure she is provided an Embassy Letter for her trips...I don't know if she gets one letter for the entire year or if she needs one for each trip...

Below is from [REDACTED] and we must make sure the below is covered:

For those who have to produce evidence of medical insurance, please provide a letter from an insurance company stating that they will be covered, for a minimum of 45,000 Dollars for the duration of their stay in the Schengen states, for medical, hospitalization and repatriation expenses (these three words must appear in the letter).

No medical card can be taken into consideration.