All sounds good. Ike's # [REDACTED]. The safe is to go in the upstairs elevator closet please! Not basement closet. Great on bluestone and happy the pump will finally be installed. Sounds like we can handle the landscaping. Did the electricians finish the under cabinet light in my office? How does that look? I spoke to the electrician about the humming and checked the guest room again. That light had been left on all weekend when I went in and I guess that made it hum more(?). Electrician said dimmers just hum some. Yes I am sure the clean up is huge. All the drawers are dirty inside and out, etc. how about this carpenter .. Did you want me to give you my list or do I have my guy do on weekends?
