I feel bad and want you to always know you can vent to me. I feel like I vent way more than you and I don't have half the stress you do right now. Please know that what you tell me doesn't leave the vault...to friends or, in most cases, even to my husband. Love you bunches and I cancelled res at Cesco's. I was waiting to chat with Pat tonight but will probably make res at Sole...I don't know though as he is really into this basketball tourney!! I will let you know a bit later tonight on that.

[REDACTED] will be at the conf and is not sure how much I can sneak into but I don't even care...I'll be fine! the Conf. is at the Fountainbleu...there are plenty of restaurants and I want to just sit, relax and read a book! G could totally take care of the boys on Friday after school/night and Sat day (if y'all wanted to spend the night in the city-G could spend the night at your house (?)) Our flight arrives LGA on Sat. at 1:55pm and we are not checking our luggage so we would be back to New Canaan by 3pm for sure...and thank you for your kind words! I try to keep the smile..believe me, you are my stress reliever! whenever I'm stressed and get to spend time with you- I know I will forget about the stress all together OR you will listen to me bitch and complain! and then its all better hehehe :)

Thank you for that as it means so much to me to have such a positive light in my life!! I do not have yoga that weekend. However, [REDACTED] and I have a commitment in the city on Friday night. I would love to have [REDACTED] come here with [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] or be at your house with all three of them. Saturday late afternoon Henry is having his little twin friends over for a sleep over that evening. They have asked him several times and he was unable and we finally found a date that they could do it that night. I imagine they would come around 5 or so. What time do you get home that day? I am sure we can work that out. I am so glad you guys are getting away.

We depart wed and come back sat afternoon. [REDACTED] will stay over for us while we are gone but I promised [REDACTED] I would work on play dates for him. I think you have yoga next weekend but I was wondering if [REDACTED] could have a play date sat with [REDACTED]. We would come straight from airport and get him. Maybe G could take both the boys in the morning so pat can work out(?) I want to get [REDACTED] a play date wed and Fri after school also but it's the sat that would really be great cause then G can be done. Let me know if possible! Xo les
