Subject: Fireplace for Groff Home

Hi Jen...I just spoke to Bob and he is asking if we could get the fireplace guy you sent out to us a while back to our house again...he wants him to look over everything and start it up...apparently when the electrician was doing something around the fireplace 'something' got kicked and a fire started and they had to open 'something' up and use a fire extinguisher (sorry, I don't know proper terminology!). As you can imagine, I just love hearing this type of news. Anyway, Bob says he will probably need to order a new part, but really wants the 'fireplace expert' to come back out and have a look. Can you put me in touch with this man?

Also, I left a message for Pat this morning..he has not contacted me as of yet to make the appt for the fabricators to come back out and seal!

Thanks, [REDACTED]
