The image shows a screenshot of a LinkedIn invitation email. At the top, there is a grey header bar with a small icon on the left and a large black redaction box on the right. Below this, the main content area is white. It starts with a large black redaction box. Then, the letter 'H' is visible, followed by another black redaction box. Below that, the text 'I'd like to connect with you on LinkedIn.' is displayed. Underneath, there is another black redaction box, followed by the text 'Architecture & Planning Professional'. There are two buttons: a dark grey 'Accept' button and a light grey 'View Profile' button. At the bottom of the email content, there is a link: 'You are receiving Invitation emails. Unsubscribe'.
