Hi [REDACTED]

I didn't forget about you. I found them in Norwalk on Saturday but they were buried and I had no one there to help me. I am picking them up tomorrow morning so you could pick them up after 11 in New Canaan. Just let me know when you want to come so I don't miss you.

The ledger stone is still available. I can get you a quote at some point tomorrow, Thursday the latest.

Have a great night!!

> Hi Vicki...just following up...were you able to locate 4 pieces of 12x12 creme de marfil polished tiles? Also, I may want to do the backsplash in our butlers pantry with the same carrera marble ledge stone we used in our master bath...do you know if this is in stock? It is not a very large area...probably 18" from counter top to under the cabinets and about 7' long (I can get better measurements for you of course!)
