So sorry to hear about the BF...there are more men in the sea! ;)

You should try to come to the new office in the next couple of weeks as Harry is leaving! To be honest, Jeffrey had told him 2 years ago it was time for him to look for a new job...he had a very difficult time finding something and i have felt bad for him cause who wants to work in a place where you know the boss wants you gone! He will go to an accounting firm (all WAY jewish like him)...so it will be a perfect fit for him...I hope ...I am not in the office all the time cause I work from JE' s house and JE now lets me work from home 2 days a week if he is not here (which is SO very nice) Look at your schedule and lets see if something would work.. Bella, Rich and Darren are still around...

take care!! Les

Oh my gosh! Lesley I am so sorry I didn't write you back sooner! I don't know how your email got lost!
Anyway, the house is still under construction? I thought you guys were working on it when I was still working there! What sports does Ty play...time really flies. I feel like it was yesterday when I saw everyone!

I'm very impressed with myself too for finishing school let alone grad school haha but I guess getting older does that. I love the [REDACTED] but I've now decided to look for a position that is more challenging. I think I'm capable of more than I'm doing so we'll see how that goes. I'm also still not so "together" in the relationship department though. My bf and I recently broke up so back to square one! It's ok though, at least I have my new career and school to look forward to even though there's not too much work in the non-profit world these days...even for an entry level position!

I know I've been saying this for years but would love to come by and see you some time and say hello to everyone. Let's try to figure out the best time that you're not to busy and the office isn't crazy and I'll try to stop by before class!

Take care and keep in touch!

wow@!! I can't believe you are in Grad School!! Good for you! I'm quite impressed...seems like you are really getting it together :) I hope you are enjoying school and the new job...Things are great with all of us...Ty enjoying 3rd grade and sports...Ike is a great dad and husband and working hard at his firm...Jeffrey is doing super too...working and keeping busy. Our house is still under construction! We hope to move in maybe early April...its very nice and way too big for just the 3 of us...My parents were just here for a visit and I think were overwhelmed by the project..(they are flying home today....great...as far as I know they have only departed the gate...I hope it is not a miserable day for them) I will tell everyone you say hello...keep in touch :) Lesley

Hi Lesley,

Just sending a quick hello note! I can't believe the last time we spoke was June! Time goes by sooo fast. Since we last spoke I started my new career-related job at the [REDACTED] in the Development department and I started Grad School at [REDACTED] I just started my second semester. How are things with you? How are Ty and Ike? How is Jeffrey doing? Please say hello to everyone for me!!

Best,

Hi Les!

No worries! I figured you were probably out of the office or something!
Thanks for passing along the message!

Wow 3rd grade! It was real fast!

Hi Lesley,

Hope you're well and you're summer has started off well! How is Ty?!

So I graduated last month and start grad school part time in September (you knew that I think). I've recently geared up my job search in the non-profit sector and I came across an article about Jeffery's foundation...I know it's based in the Virgin Islands but I was wondering if he did any work here in NY and looking for anyone to help out. I do more development and program assistance rather than foundation work but any entry level in non-profit work would be great...even part-time! I would really love to expand my work experience as I've been at the Landmarks Conservancy for three years. Anyway, It was just a thought...let me know what you think!

Oh and I still haven't forgotten about stopping by and seeing you!

Thanks!
