Any afternoon would be just fine for you to install the bubble boarder. If you want to show me something first I could meet you on Sunday at 3:30 if that worked for you. Or I am working from home on Monday and will be at the new house with my builder from 10:30-11:30. Or I could come back to the house on Monday after 3:30. Let me know if something works. Thanks, [REDACTED]

Hi [REDACTED]

Yes, I can do it. Let stick with our plans for this weekend - re-grouting a shower in your old home. Im able install this small border during the week, most likely afternoon. Is there any chance we could stop by your new home tomorrow so I can show you something regardless bubble border?
See you tomorrow at 9:30 am at your place.

Thank you
Rafal

Hi Rafal...might you have time to come and install the bubble boarder in my son's bath this weekend or one day next week? We need to have the mirror installed above the boarder and it makes sense to have you do the boarder first. The mirror guy wants to be finished with our house by next Friday...you could also take care of the re-caulking and attaching the marble seat in our shower as well....

Please let me know if you have the time...

Bob, is there anything else that needs to be done with tile?
