That is not good news on the dryer! I have to say that all the dryers I looked at I thought took a long time...maybe the manufacturers are being more honest? I'm not sure...and really, G does most of the washing/drying so I may not be a good person to ask...

I am running out of time here! sorry, I thought I was going to get to this..

when it comes to your flight..ugh...flying out Wed. would probably better than taking your chances with Thurs, but it changes your whole trip (hotel, money, etc)...I like that Jet Blue adds more flights so you probably could get on something friday...I am not sure what I would do if it were me. I may take my chances...if there is nothing truly pressing to get there for...

more later...
