Ok, I will sell you the cabinets and put them in the wrong way. He can do the rest. And the liability is on him.

I will do it, but I am fucking pissed this little faget gets to give me instructions on how to install his cabinets.

Ok I am over it. Just venting.

Dear [REDACTED]

Bob called this morning to inquire about the supports required under the Master Bath Vanities.

I explained the supports were not part of the Nukitchen's Installation agreement (see attached Floor Plan) and all that is needed is for his crew to frame, sheet rock and tile an eight (8") deep box under each Vanity.

I've attached a copy of the floor plan and Manufacturer's recommendation for the supports.

Can you please forward this info to Bob, Mike is unavailable to come to the house, the attached info explains all.

Contact me anytime.

Sincerely,

Chris Cross
