We went over and the door to [REDACTED] office and the door in the guest room were both wide open...we tried to secure them all...i also put a piece of wood in the slider door to jam it shut...the heat was for sure struggling and dropped to 56..by the time we left it was up to 58

Did you know the Range is sitting in the pantry? Someone must have moved it there yesterday after we stopped by around 1pm, because it wasn't in there at 1pm?? Who would have done that? Scares me really...you mentioned a range like that is what pp like to come in and take...
