Guys,

I love you both and thank you for a wonderful evening...although I did feel I bit cheated out of the guys since us girls basically took over the dining room and didn't move the rest of the night. I know you get sick of hearing it but I have to keep telling you how happy I am to have met you both. I also continue to be amazed at what a good little boy [REDACTED] is. He is so sweet at our house and says please and thank you ALL the time. He is kind and thoughtful and just really a great little boy....Good job to you both for that!

Love you and thanks for great food and fun! Maybe in several months we can have a mini football reunion and have the same core group over to our house! Will be fun to reconnect after some time apart!
