Hi [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] closet design is below. Is the change correct - I took out the shelves and short hang and converted it to long. The new cost for his closet with this change is $3494. The material we use is a thermo fused melamine laminate.

For your closet, the only changes we made was eliminating the bottom shelf/toe kick and bringing the partitions off the floor in the shoe closet and the long hanging sections. Everything else will be floor based.

Let me know if you have other questions. Thanks!

Hi Cheryl...spoke to [REDACTED] and I agree with him...he wants to make the right hand side all long hanging (take out the shelves and the short hanging...he has plenty of all that)...probably a good idea...Can you let me know what this does to price...Also, what material are you using? I can't remember..are they real wood? Also, I need to be reminded what we decided to keep and take out...sorry! Does this include the bottom of the closet like shown, right?
