From: jeffrey E. <jeevacation@gmail.com>
Sent: Monday, May 25, 2015 10:00 PM
To: Janusz Banasiak; Richard Kahn
Subject: Re: Dryers for Palm Beach

let loutlla decide

On Mon, May 25, 2015 at 5:17 PM, Janusz Banasia= <<=iv dir="auto"> <mailto: ███████████ > Same set up like in NY? There are 3 dryers there - 1b=g one and 2 small

Sent from my iPhone

On May 25= 2015, at 3:24 PM, Richard Kahn < ██████████████████ <mailto: ██████████████ > wrote:

=blockquote type="cite">
When I spoke with Louella on Friday she=would like on large machine and one small (same set up as NY) Jo=h explained that small machines can handle everything with exception of la=ge blankets

From: Josh Krancer < ███████████████
Date: Fr=day, May 22, 2015 at 9:20 AM
To: " ████████████ <mailto ████████████ > " < ██████████████ <mailto ██████████████ >
Subject: Dryers for Palm Beach

</=iv>

Hi Richard,

=C2

The AD-285 is most like your =lder Maytag MDG30. This model is a bit longer and the exhaust is through t=e top of the machine.

 =A0

The other model is Maytag's MD=35PN. It's a newer type of dryer that would require more frequent =leaning of the lint tray. The older models had a bigger lint drawer.

Both are made at the same factory.

1

Josh

<=pan style="font-size:10pt;font-family:Tahoma,sans-serif;color:rgb(153,15=,153)">Josh Krancer | Account Executi=e

Mac-Gray =ommercial Laundry

61 Holton Street, Woburn, MA 01801

Office: 781.376.6410 <tel: ███████████ | Fax: 781.376.6450 <tel: ██████████ =u>

███████████████████████ <mailto: ████████████████ =A0 please note