I pulled the photos from the [REDACTED] FBI exports and compiled the attached spreadsheet to keep track of the information for these files and to use to ask the FBI to confirm where each of these was originally pulled from. Do you want to ask the FBI to identify the source for all of these images now or after you pare down the set you originally flagged?

One thing I wanted to flag/ask, when you were reviewing these earlier, did you have any issues viewing any of the files? The file types .psd, "file," or .girl do not appear viewable to me either from the export (in the browser window) or when I downloaded the native file. I can check with our IT folks to see if they can help us figure out how to view these but also wanted to ask if you had this issue in your review.

The pulled photos are here, and I added the index number to the start of the file name for ease of viewing at this point:

And a copy of the exports and original files you reviewed can be found on the shared here:

Let me know if you have any questions or want to chat about any of this.
