Okay. Due to the nature of the airline industry, I'm sure the cost won't be under $800. Yesterday, the flight change made the trip $1,074.30. In any case it's much less than your present flight itinerary.

If the full cost is anything less than $2,000, do I have your permission to make the changes when I call CWT Sato? I would like to know beforehand so I can complete the process instead of awaiting your response while live with the travel agent. Thanks as always.

As long as the flight cost is still the same (that is, under $800), I'd like to keep the outbound date as the 7th, please.

Got it, thanks. Given the extreme disparity in cost between the flights, and since I didn't realize mine would be nearly as expensive, I've moved my schedule around so that I can make it work for the flights Alison is on. Could you please change me to those flights? That should drop my flight cost down from about $5,000 to less than $800. (And please just let me know if for some reason the cost is different now for those other flights.) Thank you!!

The only ones cheaper are the scheduled flights that Alison and Maurene have. I called CWT Sato and went through all the options yesterday. Your present itinerary is the best option for you.

Got it – but just to confirm, are there no other flights at all that are cheaper than the one I originally mentioned? I don't see any that are cheaper, but I also don't see the ones that Alison got when I do a search. Just want to make absolutely sure – thanks!

Okay, thanks for clarifying. I've contacted CWT Sato and we've exhausted all of the options that are fully refundable and that are close to the original schedule of your present itinerary. The only options for fully refundable flights are the ones either [REDACTED] or [REDACTED] reserved, and you made it clear that their scheduled flights weren't optimal for you. It's best that you keep your present itinerary. Thanks for your patience and I hope we can move forward from this experience in a positive manner.

Darlene,

I'm not upset at all, and I have every confidence that you'll continue to thoroughly assist us as you've done in the past. I wanted to note that I had requested refundable flights and that it was frustrating that we didn't know you were leaving in the middle of the day when this was ongoing, and we've covered that, so I don't feel any need to belabor it.

I certainly understand it's complicated, and it wouldn't have been my choice to schedule it just a week and a half before – that was due to witness availability. I appreciate your help on all of our travel and it would be helpful for me to know what the flight options are if the one I had originally wanted is too expensive – when I looked on E2, it was the cheapest option available, which is why I requested it. If you could please let me know what other flights are available that are cheaper, I would be grateful.

thanks very much,
Alex.

Apologies Alex, I was unaware that it would be such an inconvenience for you to travel the same departing flight as Alison. In the future, I'll only make amendments to your itinerary once you give the ok. Since my amendments weren't to your liking, I've called CWT Sato and reverted it back to your last itinerary with departing flight from JFK at 6:40pm, arriving in Paris, France at 8:00am, then departing Paris, France at 9:15am, arriving in Stockholm, Sweden at 11:55am. I've left the 2/7/20 flights as is. I've also amended the Sheraton Stockholm Hotel to a checkout date of 2/7/20 (the previous 1/24/20 itinerary had a checkout date of 2/6/20).

I'm noticing that you're highly upset from this experience. I understand. I was only attempting to reserve not only your preferred flights, but the cheapest flights available and to not have it sold out due to the nature of the airline industry. I am not a travel agent, so I'm not a specialist in this area of expertise. And to be quite honest, the way it was phrased in your original email, you didn't ask me, you inferred to me that the flights you wanted me to book were refundable flights. That's the only reason I booked the flights you chose for the original itinerary. Also, all of your flights were scheduled before I left the Office, and I informed Budget and James Bullock of awaiting the scheduling of the hotel, so I wasn't the only person attempting to finalize your travel reservations.

Since you feel I'm incapable of handling your preferred itinerary for this international trip in a professional manner, I would advise you ask for assistance from a CWT Sato Travel Agent if you require further amendments since they have access to all the flight info regarding if it's fully refundable, and could break it down to you live while you're on the phone so you could choose the best flight schedule for the dates and times you specify. The record locator is LVDGAX.

The number for CWT Sato is (877) 905-9644.

Again, apologies for making this international reservation an unpleasant experience. Foreign travel is much more complex process than the standard travel reservation, and is usually scheduled way in advance to account for the issues we're experiencing now.

Darlene,

None of this changes the fact that you left the office without telling us in the middle of us all trying to schedule this trip, and then scheduled me on a non-refundable flight after I specifically said that we need refundable flights.

In any event, the flight that Alison is on does not work for me, so if I'm not allowed to take the flight you originally booked for me, please send me a list of ALL refundable flight tickets that are within the allowable price range for departure on February 3 (arriving February 4) and departing February 7. Please don't just put me on flights without checking with me if they work.

Thank you.

Good morning Alex,

Fortunately, there's was a 24 hour policy when booking a non-refundable trip so I knew that if any issues transpired, we could void the trip by COB today. Since the cost of the non-refundable trip previously reserved is astronomically high, I voided it and booked the same departing flight as [REDACTED] with the same return date from the old itinerary that's fully refundable and much lower than the flight itinerary chosen.

If you need to make any further amendments, you can now be assured that you'll be able to without penalty fees. Also, the new flight itinerary will be ticketed on 1/29/20, so you have even more time to make any adjustments before your trip to Stockholm, Sweden. Sorry for the inconvenience.

Darlene, I wish you would have told us that you were leaving early today – we had a lot of travel issues and thought you would be assisting this afternoon. In particular, in my email about flights, I specifically asked to get a refundable fare, and you got me a non-refundable, so I had to call the government travel people tonight to switch it, since international travel must be refundable. The ticket will now be more expensive but it's required for us for international flights.

Darlene, similar request from me for the same trip, if you could please book the following refundable tickets –

- Monday, 2/3, Delta, 6:40 p.m. departure from JFK, landing at 11:55 a.m. in Stockholm (ARN) on 2/4, with a layover in Paris
- Friday, 2/7, Delta, 12:45 p.m. departure from Stockholm (ARN), landing at 9:55 p.m. at JFK, with a layover in Paris

Note that it appears this set of flights is only available in premium economy but those seats are cheaper than any other flights on those days in regular economy seating. Please let me know if e2 or EOUSA says we have to fly regular economy (and therefore spend more money) and I can look at other flight times.

Separately, could you also please take a look at hotel options in downtown Sweden that are within the per diem allowance? We generally need to be in this area, downtown:

I looked for a long time and literally didn't see anything at $196 or below, so if you could please take a look and let us know three or four options, we can take a look at those.

thanks very much,
Alex.

Hi Darlene,

For this trip, could you please help with booking flights? If you could please book the following refundable ticket, that would be very much appreciated:

- Monday, 2/3, 8:15 p.m. departure from JFK, landing at 2:25 p.m. in Stockholm on 2/4, with a layover in London (American Airlines)
- Thursday, 2/6, 11:40 a.m. departure from Stockholm, landing at 7:30 p.m. at JFK, with a layover in London (American Airlines)
- Frequent flier #: 0AKE210

Thanks!

Ed,

Similar to prior requests in connection with the Epstein investigation (2018R01618), but with an added international element, we'd like to please request permission for the team to travel next week for an interview near Stockholm, Sweden, next week on January 29th and/or 30th. We expect to be traveling, respectively, some combination of the 27th (overnight) to the 31st, depending on when the interview ends up being scheduled, and we'll put final dates on our formal applications. Also similar to prior trips, we'd like to request approval to get a conference room for one of those days at a hotel for the interview itself.

Also based on our discussion earlier we'll be mindful of looking for domestic (or domestic-flagged) carrier flights, as well as the costs of any alternatives, in looking at possible specific bookings. Thanks as always for your help and input on that.

thank you,
Alex.

As of now we tentatively expect to fly down Tuesday night and return on Wednesday or Thursday (and will keep the timeframe as short as scheduling allows).

Unfortunately we're still trying to pin down timing for interviewing the victims, so depending on the timing it will either be me and Alison or Alison and Maurene, but we wanted to ask for permission now either way so we weren't doing it super last minute after the holiday on Tuesday. And also same as last time, we'd like to ask permission to reserve a conference room at the hotel for the interviews, please.
