[REDACTED], it occurs to me that although we've gotten sign-off from the front office folks that we still need to get a deputy chief to sign, and I think most or many of them are out next week – with the caveat that we can continue to proof-read and change precise wording if we need to, should we get the indictment and pros memo to [REDACTED] today? The attached indictment version incorporates [REDACTED] very small edits (and [REDACTED] had no edits). If it's alright, I'll give to [REDACTED] right now.
