Dan,

We actually need to speak briefly today – the agents unfortunately are in a meeting right now, but could we speak when you're finished with your depo this afternoon? We should be able to do any time after about 3:30. And we can have another call with everyone on Monday if you think that would be useful after we chat.

thanks,

Dan, Kimberly,

Following up on our discussions regarding [REDACTED], we were wondering if you have time for a brief call tomorrow, or if not, at your earliest convenience next week? We don't expect to take long but do want to be quickly in touch when you're available.

thank you,
