Re: United States v. Maxwell, No. 20 Cr. 330

Dear Judge Nathan:

We represent [REDACTED] the independent administrator of the Epstein Victims' Compensation Program. We write regarding the Court's order, dated November 22, 2021, denying [REDACTED] motion to quash Maxwell's subpoena to her and ordering production of the subpoenaed documents by November 24, 2021 at noon.

[REDACTED] intends to comply with the Court's order and produce responsive documents to the Court. However, given the volume of materials and the steps necessary to ensure that documents produced fall within the scope of the subpoena, it is not possible to produce all materials by noon tomorrow. We understand that the volume of potentially responsive materials is approximately 6,000 to 7,000 pages, and we note that the original return date for the subpoena was November 29, 2021 at 8:30am.

We intend to produce by noon tomorrow documents consisting of claim forms and any narratives signed by the four individuals identified in the subpoena, payment records, and releases executed by the four individuals. We intend to produce remaining responsive documents as soon as possible thereafter and respectfully request until November 29, 2021 at 8:30am (the original subpoena return date) to complete production.

We are available should the Court have any questions.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Patrick J. Smith
