Oh great, glad to hear it. I suggested she call the FBI number, but she seemed a little, ah, skeptical, so wasn't sure if she would call. Thanks.

I got a call this past week from a woman who said that she previously had been sexually assaulted, by a man who she believed was associated with Epstein. She said that she is a high-profile individual and that she would like to speak with someone from the FBI. She gave her name as [REDACTED] and gave the number [REDACTED]. She declined to provide a last name, but caller ID showed the name [REDACTED] when she called. Based on her brief self-description, [REDACTED], and the caller ID, I think she may be this woman:

[REDACTED]

Though I'm not positive. Could someone please reach out to her this coming week?

thanks very much,
