On a lighter note, the other day when I first saw this email, I hadn't seen the initial one from [REDACTED] and just saw on my phone a response from [REDACTED] to what looked to me, at a glance, to be from a "NYMag" email address, and I was . . . very confused by the response, for like a half a second.

Thank you very much for reaching out. We very much appreciate your support, and we will reach out should we learn of viable state-level charges that are not already covered by our federal investigation.

I learned through the media that Ghislaine Maxwell was arrested today and is facing Federal charges. Please know that the New Mexico Office of the Attorney General stands ready to assist with this Federal prosecution as needed, and also stands willing to move forward on any State-level charges, should any viable charges exist.

Please do not hesitate to contact myself or Chief Deputy District Attorney [REDACTED] (included on this email) should you wish to discuss this matter. Have a good day.
