These look good to me. Some small stuff in track. And I added some mustard to the last answer, which I doubt she'll use, but was satisfying to write. Your comments on the press remarks look good to me. If you're okay with these, want me to send both to the team?

Looking now.

Here is QA. I put together more quickly than I'd like, give a look.

Should we circulate both of these to the team, prep them for possibility of press conference, etc?
