Following up on [redacted]'s email from earlier this week regarding the taint review, we've sent along the question to our privilege review coordinator in the office. We have had less information about this than we ordinarily would because his attorneys wanted to communicate with her directly, rather than provide us the relevant taint info, but we did just follow up. Given the amount of materials, I wouldn't be surprised if it takes some additional weeks to complete the taint review, but we'll let you know the reply.

thanks,

The agents on the Epstein case have asked, below, about the status of the taint review of the materials seized from his Manhattan residence, which were made available on September 10 (see attached). I know that you had dealt directly with Epstein's attorneys regarding search terms, etc., so we haven't had visibility on that, but could you please let us know the current status, and when you expect we'll be able to get access to the materials?

thanks very much,

Hey guys,

Our supervisors are requesting a status update on the taint review process on your end. I simple percentage complete is fine, they just want to know before tomorrow they have a meeting with the ADIC about the case.

Thanks
