

██████████ v. J.P. Morgan > or embellished any information. I have not been coerced into providing > this account.

> During the year of 1908, I was currently living in ██████████

> One evening in June, I was brutally attacked. A man broke into my > house via the front door using an axe. I was beaten up severally and > kept hostage for many hours, my home was smashed up as well. I > eventually managed to escape, I was covered in blood etc. A couple > passing by alerted the police and ambulance. I was taken to hospital.

> In the interim, my daughter ██████████ was called and she came down > to ██████████ I think, it's fair to say she was horrified, not only > by my condition but also by the state of my house. The place was > unliveable. My daughter suggested that I should stay with her in > ██████████ I complied.

> ██████████, was living in a lovely house in ██████████ with her dog called > ██████████ My understanding was that she had met a gentleman called ██████████ > who moved into her property. I had not met ██████████ before. As you can > expect I was clearly traumatised by recent events in ██████████

> It appeared to me that they were a " couple", who did all the normal > things i.e. going out together, eating, watching movies and sharing the > same bed. After a while, I started to notice certain characteristics > of ██████████. He appeared to be unaffectionate, almost remote and detached > towards ██████████. I thought that this was a little strange but .....?

> 1. One afternoon, ██████████ had to go out, so it was just ██████████ and I left > in the house. He put on a movie ( I was just pottering around ) I had > no idea what he was watching but he became very agitated and started > to shout. The next thing I knew, he lost his temper, told the dog to " > shut up "and then kicked ██████████ so hard that she landed up against the > middle of the wall. She was hurt. I was horrified. I have never > experienced such brutality like this before. It was like she was a > football. I saw him do this again. ██████████ was not present. I surmise > that may be a bit of jealousy from ██████████ ? ██████████ was like ██████████ > little baby.

Reply

Forward

