

09:05

9 messages

From: [REDACTED]

<[REDACTED]>

Sent: 23 August 2023 19:02

To: SubjectAccess <SubjectAccess@gstt.nhs.uk>

Subject: [REDACTED]

A password protected attachment has been sent to you. Please note that the message could not be scanned for malware/viruses due to the message being password protected.

For your security it is highly recommended to avoid opening any attachments or clicking any links without further confirmation, even if this email appears to be from an NHS user. Any confirmation should use a separate communication method (preferably a voice call), including where the sender is known.

This is an informational warning from the NHSmail team.

To Whom It May Concern.

Please help me as I'm urgently requesting my medical documents from when I was rushed to A&E and proceeded to stay in the ICU in a coma for roughly a month on the 16th of August 2008.

I'm urgently requesting the documents of my hospital records because I need them for the current litigation, which concerns Jeffrey Epstein-related matters, as I'm one of the survivors he sex trafficked.

My [REDACTED] that night was due to the trauma I suffered at the hands of Epstein which I why these records are really important.

I'm aware that this is an impossible ask, but please please may I get those records within the next few days? I've only been given a few days deadline, and they are vital for ...

EFTA00144261