[REDACTED] -

Please forward this to those individuals from your section who attended today's session.

Per our conversation, attached are the slides used for today's discussion. Additionally, [REDACTED] cell phone number is listed below.

Homework assignment:

1. Identify one condition which must exist for us to have effective Ops/Intel Integration.
2. For this condition or one of the other conditions listed on the slide, identify one Line of Effort which needs to be prioritized and executed to achieve this condition and, as a result, the objectives.

Thank you for your time today. I really appreciate it.

The phone line at my desk here is inactive - will need to work on that with IT to get a line established. My cell is always on me though - [REDACTED] and, as always, I'm happy to chat more with anyone about anything we discussed today.

Hope today was helpful in kicking off a "new" way of thinking for your leadership.
