

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]

Subject: Fwd: high profile client who is victim of revenge porn blackmail

Date: Fri, 13 Dec 2019 20:27:08 +0000

Importance: Normal

---

Will do. Thank you.

-

On Dec 13, 2019 3:21 PM, "[REDACTED]" > wrote:

[REDACTED]

You can advise him that this is a well know scam that has been reported multiple times to the FBI. No money should be paid.

If their client would still like to report it for informational purposes, it can be reported to the FBI's Internet Crime Complaint Center (ic3.gov).

[REDACTED]

Supervisory Special Agent
FBI/NYPD
Violent Crimes Task Force

[REDACTED]

On Dec 13, 2019 3:14 PM, "[REDACTED]" > wrote:

I received the below email from an attorney we've worked with. Is this something C19 would handle?

[REDACTED]

-

----- Forwarded message -----

From: [REDACTED] <[REDACTED]>
Date: Dec 12, 2019 10:46 AM
Subject: high profile client who is victim of revenge porn blackmail
To: [REDACTED]
Cc:
Dear [REDACTED]

My law firm worked with you in connection with our clients who were victims of Jeffrey Epstein. I have a new, unrelated matter on behalf of a high profile New York client who last night received an email threatening to send a sexually explicit video to all his contacts if he didn't immediately pay money via bitcoin immediately. We are, of course, quite concerned.

Would you be willing to direct me to the appropriate agent who can advise?

Thank you.

Best,

[REDACTED]

--

This message is for the designated recipient only and may contain privileged, proprietary, or otherwise private information. If you have received it in error, please notify the sender immediately and delete the original. Any other use of the email by you is prohibited.